CLOS Gran Anyada

Brut Natural Reserva

CAVA

With the wisdom of Joan Miquel Nadal, oenologist and researcher, and the good work carried out by his siblings, Imma and Albert, there is no choice but to carry out a project with them with a clear motto: "Meticulousness in the vineyard to have peace in the winery". It is very clear for the two M's (Marià, father and son), CLOS GRAN ANYADA are authentic cavas!

M DE MARIÀ xarel·lo

Brut Nature Gran Reserva

CAVA

Once again, the two M's of GRAN ANYADA (Marià, father and son), the researcher and oenologist, Joan Miquel Canals, and the executors of his directions: his siblings, Imma and Albert, have worked together. They present a brand new cava, the result of a joint project, and which now becomes a reality. Our motto never changes: "Meticulousness at the vineyard to have peace in the winery", but now we add: "Fineness and cheerfulness mouthfeel".

Special One

DO MONTERREI

WHITE

Gran Anyada has always looked for areas where the grown varieties express their full potential. The Monterrei DO is one of the Galician denominations located in the south-east of the region, next to Portugal. Its granite slopes are watered by the river Támega, a tributary of the river Duero. That is the reason why the traditional Galician wine-growing varieties have been preserved, and the Godello is one of them. Increasingly, the market asks for a type of wine with character, and which expresses the typicality of the area. That is precisely what the wine experts Jose Manuel Martínez Juste and Marià Bigordà, father and son, have worked hard for. We believe the effort has paid off! Oh, and the name SPECIAL ONE refers to a very good friend of the Gran Anyada team!

CHARACTERISTICS

- More than 20 years of vineyards in hanging plots, located in areas with an altitude of about 405 m. Grown in calcareous soils with granitic composition.
- Manually harvested in boxes of 15 kg. Crio-macerated at about 5°C. Selection, destemming and maceration of the grapes before its automatic pressing. Controlled fermentation for a minimum of 5 months on fine lees, and stirred once a week. The wine is then stabilized in an stainless steel tank, and bottled at last.
- Shelf life: about 48 months.
- Pale yellow color, clean and very bright.
- Citric and mineral aroma due to the white flowers and fruits (such as pear, apple and aromatic herbs) present in the wine. Cheerful and powerful mouthfeel, which demonstrates the land in which the vineyard has been planted and emphasizes the mineral characteristic of the granitic land. Sweet, long and intense finish.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 7-9°C. There is no need to decant the bottle, simply open it a few minutes before serving.

REMEMBER...

- This WHITE GODELLO is a long, full and brought to perfection wine, without excessive acidity or an excessively floral aroma.
- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C
- It is important to open the bottles or decant them before consumption depending on the type of wine.

DE MAS D'EN COMPTE

WHITE

There is evidence of projects that have earned, year after year, a high credibility among our friends-clients thanks to the good working relationship Marià Bigordà, father and son, have had with Joan Sangeris since 1997. We now offer the opportunity to enjoy an elegant white wine with a lot of structure. In an area of "awarded and qualified" black wines, we have produced a white wine from over 30 year old pansal and piquepoul vines, varieties that are hardly ever grown in Priorat. We take this opportunity to make a different and innovative product.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Vines with more than 30 years planted in calcareous clay soil with patches that contain a lot of grey and ferric slate. Hand-picked with a careful sanitary selection, from 18-20 September.
- Pansal is fermented and aged in medium toast French oak barrels of 500 L, which doesn't affect the flavour.
- Piquepoul is macerated for a day, the saignée method is applied and then it is fermented in a stainless steel tank where the temperature is controlled. It is pumped over two times a day.
- A medium-bodied white wine with a good balance between aroma and taste. Balsamic, tropical and mature aromas. The optimum tears of wine exhibit a good density and fullness that highlight the mix of mineral and fruity sensations.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 7-9°C

There is no need to decant the bottle, simply open it, if possible, 30 minutes before serving it.

DO Rias Baixas

WHITE

Gran Anyada always has the vocation to improve its products, overcoming difficulties such as changing the winery where we have worked so far. We have been able to get to know the DO Rias Baixas' Rosal area better, and here we present a renovated, much improved, 80 CLICKS, with a new appearance which we think conveys the idea that quality must be the distinctive sign of our company. Thanks to Pablo Ibañez, oenologist, and Arturo Conde, viticulturist and oenologist, here we have an unrivalled product within the Albariño family. The small percentage of the varieties Loureiro (10%) and Caiño (5%) embellish the main variety, Albariño.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Area geographically limited by the Atlantic Ocean, river Miño and mountains, which protect it from winds coming from the North. Tall, trellised vines, in the shape of a roof due to humidity in abundant calcareous stones soil but with a slightly acid composition.
- Manually harvested and crio-macerated grapes. Low-pressed and controlled fermentation at 16°C for about 18 days. Aged for 7 months in fine lees. 4 years shelf life, inerting process and sterilization by plates.
- "80 Clicks" is a wine of great aromatic intensity, with white flower highlights. Its salinity pairs very well with green apple and stone fruits. Fine, balanced mouthfeel with great structure thanks to its well integrated and composed acidity. All of these characteristics allow for an elegant wine which makes you want to have another glass.

HOW TO SERVE IT

- Serve from 6.5–7.5°C.
- There is no need to decant the bottle, simply open it a few minutes before serving.

REMEMBER...

- The vineyards of the Rias Baixas DO are authentic smallholdings where the number of farmers doubles the number of hectares.
- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C.
- It is important to open or decant bottles, depending on the type of wine, before consumption.

Serve from 6-8°C
There is no need to decant the bottle, simply open it minutes before serving.

REMEMBER...

- This rosé is the best expression of a balanced and fruity wine with a lot of personality.
- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C.
- It is important to open the bottles or decant them before consumption depending on the type of wine.
- The colour, its intensity and hue, can define the features and characteristics of the wine.

FUNDENT DE CAMÓS

DO Montsant
RED

Everything that Josep Maria Vendrell Rived has earned is well-deserved, vintner by calling and oenologist as an ambition to go further in life and make something respectable of his vineyard (almost a smallholding) and his winery. Many years ago, Marià Bigordà, father and son, saw the opportunity to also earn respect in an area where we would not find a better host.

EQUILICUÀ

DO Montsant

RED

Tasting wines and appreciating young vineyards with balanced structures and prepared for low production, Gran Anyada and Vendrell Rived have now considered it appropriate to emphasize the essence of the garnatxa and samsó varieties. We present a different and modern project, where the clean qualities of those varieties stand out, without any interference.

DO COSTERS DEL SEGRE

RED WINE

A project in Costers del Segre is something Gran Anyada has been looking forward to for a long time. A DO with viticulture tradition, divided in sub-areas with diversity of lands and climatologies, where wines with strong personalities are elaborated. Matallonga cellar, in the small village of Fullea, is a great example of familiar operations with a modern project, regenerative for the vineyards and innovative in the cellar. Gran Anyada and Celler Matallonga have joined techniques, commitments and hopes to obtain the product that would dignify our first joint project in Costers del Segre. Try it and see it for yourself!

CHARACTERISTICS

- Old vineyards from Finques Matallonga (which names the cellar) and Escortals, with an average age of 60 years and an altitude of around 600m. Regenerative agriculture based on preparations of activated microorganisms from the forests of Fullea, fertilised with our own compost of calf dung and plant cover (it's about not fighting nature, but rather working together with it). Continental climate with Mediterranean influence. Average production per vine: 1kg of grapes.
- Manually harvested in 15kg boxes selected in sorting tables and cryomaceration for 24 hours before moving on to controlled fermentation at about 24°C during one month. Malolactic fermentation in French oak barrels.
- Good red colour and great expression of red, ripe and confit fruits, somehow spiced with pleasant tannins in the aftertaste and integrated acidity. Shelf life of more than 10 years.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 16,5-17°C.
Decant the wine one hour before serving it. With the bottle at an angle, pour the wine trying to keep the flow slow and steady, then slowly spin it counter-clockwise a couple of times and let it sit until it is ready to drink.

CHARACTERISTICS

• Vines of low production in dry soils of gray slate at an altitude of 1007 m.

Manually harvested and selected in sorting tables when entering the wine cellar. Very slow and controlled fermentation (with yeast from the vineyard itself) at 26°C.

• Blending of three vintages. Each one aged for 15 months in French Allier oak barrels, and then stored in old barrels (from 7 to 8 years old) which do not add any special features to the already aged wine.

• Shelf life: about 12 years.

• Great intensity cherry red color. Cheerful and powerful black, ripe and sweet fruits, plums and blackberries aroma. Its tannins in the wood are nice and sweet. Good tear. Soft, long and well-structured finish.

• 1994 numbered bottles.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 15-17°C.

Decant the wine half an hour before serving it. Turn the bottle upside down and let the wine splash out of the bottle into the centre of the decanter, then spin it counter-clockwise a couple of times and let it sit.

REMEMBER...

• Garnatxa is elegance in red wine. It shines in all its glory in this 50 EUROS.

• Wines are always stored horizontally in cool places where temperatures don't go above 18°C.

YOU ROCK

DOP Utiel-Requena

RED

A few years ago, when talking about the Valencian variety BOBAL, it was easy to fall into the trap of thinking about massive wine making, without more virtues than to obtain a correct product, but with no further aspiration. Thanks to the evolution of vine-growing and oenology, today we talk about wines with singular and very attractive perspectives, because they are very different from the best-known varieties already so globalized. Autochthonous from the area of Utiel-Requena, the Bobal is cultivated with altitude, in calcareous lands not exempt from stone, following the goblet pruning system, although not forgetting about the green pruning system. The vineyard reaches its maturity to give us a captivating product, just like the one achieved in the Pasiego Winery between Jose Luis Sal6n and Marià Bigordà, father and son, which we think must be a real discovery for the customers of Gran Anyada.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Vineyards of 60 to 80 years of age in calcareous and rocky soils, located at an altitude of about 900m.
- Manually harvested and selected in sorting tables when entering the wine cellar. Cold pre-fermenting macerations for about 15 days. Slow and controlled fermentation (with yeast from the vineyard itself) at 24 °C. Aged for 15 months in French, Hungarian and French oak barrels, and then a minimum of 12 months in the bottle.
- Shelf life: around 12 years.
- Great dark red cherry pigmentation. Cheerful, powerful and clean aroma, from dark, ripe and sweet fruits, plums and blackberries. Balsamic hints. Gentle, silky and roasted tannins. Good tear. Long, smooth and well-structured finish.

REMEMBER...

- Bobal is an autochthonous variety of the region of Valencia. It is a thick-skinned grape with late sprouting, but sensitive to late frosts. It does not resist oidium very well, but it does resist mildew, which are both typical diseases of the grapes produced by fungi. It is also very resistant to drought.
- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C
- It is important to open the bottles or decant them before consumption depending on the type of wine.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Vines planted before the phylloxera plague located on a high plateau 700 meters above sea level. Calcareous, deep and hot sand-clay soils that help the vines ripen.
- Long fermentation with indigenous yeasts and malolactic fermentation in a barrel.
- Fine grain medium-high toast French oak barrels.
- Spectacular fusion of red berries with a sweet and powerful taste. It has a traditional long finish and an exceptional personality.
- Shelf life: 20 years.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 16–17,5°C.
Decant the wine 4–5 hours before serving it. Turn the bottle upside down and let the wine splash out of the bottle into the centre of the decanter, then spin it counter-clockwise a couple of times and let it sit.

REMEMBER...

- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C.
- The colour, its intensity and hue, can define the features and characteristics of the wine.
- The potential of the Tinta de Toro variety (Tinta del País, Tempranillo, Cencibel or elsewhere), grown in calcareous sand-clay soils and a semiarid weather, brings out the best in red wines aged for long periods of time.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Vines of low production in dry soils of gray slate at an altitude of 900m.
- Hand-picked and selected grapes. Slow and controlled fermentation (with yeast from the vine itself) at around 28°C.
- Shelf life: around 12 years.
- Highly intense red cherry colour. Lively and powerful aroma of ripe and sweet black fruits, plums and blackberries. Pleasant and sweet tannins. Good tear. Long and smooth finish with great structure.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 15-17°C
Decant the wine 2 hours before serving it. With the bottle at an angle pour the wine trying to keep the flow slow and steady, then slowly spin it counter-clockwise a couple of times and let it sit.

REMEMBER...

- Grenache is the elegance in red wine and in our TIKI TAKA it is perfectly identified.
- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C.
- The colour, its intensity and hue, can define the features and characteristics of the wine.

BEPPPO 33

Magnum, DO Montsant

RED

Continuing with the perfect symbiosis between Josep Maria Vendrell and Gran Anyada started many years ago, a new and ambitious project is born, a very personal and emotional one dedicated to someone who is courageous and determined. Our objective is to provide the expressive qualities of a well-crafted product in a container. The 150 cl. magnum preserves and enhances the aromatic and taste virtues of the product much better than the classic 75 cl. bottle, and everything with a very interesting quality/price/pleasure ratio.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Vines planted before the phylloxera plague located on a high plateau 700 meters above sea level. Calcareous, deep and hot sand-clay soils that help the vines ripen.
- Long fermentation with indigenous yeasts and malolactic fermentation in a barrel.
- Fine grain medium-high toast French oak barrels.
- Spectacular fusion of red berries with a sweet and powerful taste. It has a traditional long finish and an exceptional personality.
- Shelf life: 20 years.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 16–17,5°C.
Decant the wine 4–5 hours before serving it. Turn the bottle upside down and let the wine splash out of the bottle into the centre of the decanter, then spin it counter-clockwise a couple of times and let it sit.

ORIGEN D SEMAL

DO Montsant
HIGH-PROFILE RED WINE

Thirteenth project (P-13)! Almost 13 years ago, we discovered a hectare of an almost extinct Samsó at Joan Gros' Vinya Mas. A century old and now ecological, it still allows us to enjoy being able to produce a few bottles of a pure and elegant wine, almost sublime, like an elixir which keeps surprising us every year. We have done thirteen different but remarkable projects, where Josep Maria Vendrell and Gran Anyada (Marià Bigordà, father and son) have put all of their wisdom to extract the best from a vineyard which is living a second youth.

CHARACTERISTICS

- T102-year-old goblet-pruned vineyard in a calcareous clay soil with excellent depth. The production in 2021 was around 350g of grape per each vine, which allowed us to have 700kg and 552 numbered bottles.
- The fermentation has lasted for one month and a half, controlled at a temperature of 24-25°C. When finished, it has gone through malolactic fermentation.
- We didn't think it was appropriate to store it in a barrel, in order to preserve the full potential of this variety, just as this special micro elaboration deserves. The outcome has been an explosion of red fruit, ripe and con-fitted, with good colour intensity and an acidity which guarantees the wine's longevity to be more than 12 years.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 16,5-17°C.

Decant the wine an hour before serving it. Turn the bottle upside down and let the wine splash out of the bottle into the centre of the decanter, then spin it counter-clockwise a couple of times and let it sit.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Old vines of low production grown in a medium altitude, dried land in a continental climate with high temperature contrast between day and night.
- Hand-picked and overripened grapes. After a gentle pressing process, they undergo a slow and controlled fermentation. The wine undergoes a process of sterile filtration at its optimum residual sugar levels.
- Shelf life: around 36 months.
- Maximum expression of grape flavour, citrus (orange tree leaves) are also present. The elegance of the rose and fruit compote are not a nuisance.

HOW TO SERVE IT

Serve from 8,5-10,5°C

There is no need to decant the bottle.

REMEMBER...

- Wines are always stored horizontally in a cool place where temperatures don't go above 18°C.
- It is important to open the bottles or decant them before consumption depending on the type of wine.
- The colour, its intensity and hue, can define the features and characteristics of the wine.
- Navarra DO is known for its Rosé wines but also for its natural sweet wines. Among them, Oligitum stands out as one of the best.
